

Utah Assistive Technology Foundation

6835 Old Main Hill (800) 524-5152
Logan, Utah (435) 797-2355
Website: www.uatf.org

Purpose: The Utah Assistive Technology Foundation is a private, non-profit organization that works with Zion's Bank of Utah to provide low-interest loans to purchase assistive technology and telework devices. The UATF also offers small grants of $250 or less on a limited basis through non-federal funding to families who meet federal poverty guidelines. Our goal is to assist Utahans with disabilities by enhancing their independence, education, employment, and quality of life through assistive technology.

Higher Education – Disability Resource Centers

Purpose: The mission of the Disability Resource Centers at Institutions of Higher Learning is to allow equal access to college programs, services, and activities for students with disabilities under the American with Disabilities Act and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Services may include interpreters, taped text books, a note taker, untimed tests, tests in a separate classroom, and many other accommodations for students with disabilities. Students need to check with the Center and present current testing to see if they qualify for services. To qualify, students must have a DSM-IV diagnosis (psychologist or psychiatrist) and current testing within the last 3 years for certain disabilities.

Our mission is to help parents help their children with disabilities to live included, productive lives as members of the community. We accomplish this through the provision of information, training, and peer support. The Utah Parent Center is a private, non-profit organization that receives federal funding to be Utah's Parent Training and Information Center by the Office of Special Education Programs under grant #H328M020032. The Center also receives funding from other federal, state, and private agencies, organizations, and individual donors. The Utah Parent Center (UPC or Center) does not represent or endorse any particular point of view, program, organization, business or professional unless expressly stated and no endorsement may be inferred by the UPC or any of its funding sources.
